

MEMBERSHIP DUES

Utah Association of Building Officials (UABO)

Membership in the Utah Association of Building Officials offers many benefits. A periodic newsletter provides a recap of Legislative matters and information dealing with administration of legal aspects of codes and enforcement, disaster support, uniformity, codes of ethics, and standard business practices. Through email you will be notified of training opportunities, forum discussion of code challenges facing our members, job openings and notification of service opportunities. If you are designated as a “Class A” member, you are allowed to vote at the annual business meeting. Networking with other professionals in our industry becomes easy as a member of our Statewide Chapter.

MEMBERSHIPS

Class A Member — $100 annual fee

Class A Member is a Building Official of a jurisdiction who is charged with the administration and enforcement of laws and ordinances related to building construction. A Class A member's building official may, in addition, designate in writing individuals employed by said jurisdiction or individuals with a building official certification contracted to provide services to said jurisdiction to serve and vote on committees and to serve as its voting representatives at all business and special meetings.

Associate Member — $25 annual fee

An Associate Member is an individual who is contracted with or employed by a jurisdiction building department eligible for Class A membership (must have Class A membership before an Associate membership can be applied).

Individual Member — $100 annual fee

An individual Member is an individual who is part of a firm, corporation or association interested in the objectives of the Association.

Corporation Member — $200 annual fee

A Corporation Member is firm, corporation or association interested in the objectives of the Association.
